

#10 Engraving Pattern

This is the least expensive style of factory engraving. The receiver is engraved with the finest ornamental scroll and the animal scene is engraved on only one side of the receiver. The animal is engraved in fine line engraving with exceptional detail. For those who wish to ornament an arm, this pattern will produce an arm with the characteristics of the more expensive styles at a lesser cost.

Receiver: Fully engraved with ornamental scroll and fine line engraved animal scene.

H - Style Checkering

Any animal vignette pictured on page 23 can be substituted for those pictured here. A personalized monogram may be engraved in place of the animals, if so desired. Any checkering pattern shown on page 22 can be furnished. This style of engraving and ornamentation can be applied to all Winchester rifles.

No. 10, $5.00

The illustrations on this and the opposite page show an inexpensive style of ornamentation. Anyone wishing to ornament a rifle at small expense will find this style very desirable, as it possesses the characteristics of the more elaborate and costly styles. The receiver is engraved with ornamental scrolls and embossed border work. One side of the receiver is a scene engraved in outline.

The price of ornamenting a rifle in this will not permit any great deviation from that shown in the illustrations. Only Deer, Antelope, or Elk will be engraved on a rifle for this price, but they can be made to appear in different attitudes. Initials in fine line engraving can be substituted for the animal, but there will be an extra charge for monograms. The butt stock and forearm are checkered in our regular style
